

USER MANUAL

Welcome to MovieMatch!

MovieMatch is a software that is here to help you find movies and TV shows that closely match your preferences! Thousands of movies and TV shows are combed through in less than a second to match the best to you. This user manual will guide you through all the functions and features MovieMatch provides, ensuring you have knowledge of the full workings of the software so that you can use it efficiently and productively.

First Steps:

MovieMatch can be used only when logged in with a user account. A user account can be created on request and signed into on the sign-in page. Once you enter your username and password into their respective input areas, click “sign in”. Once you are signed in, you have full access to MovieMatch’s extensive features!

Navigating the software:

The MovieMatch page will have several options to choose from once you have access to it. In the top left, there is the Movies/TV dropdown, filter dropdown, and “Go” button.

- Movies/TV dropdown: This drop-down menu allows you to choose either “Movies” or “TV Shows”. Pick either one of the options to filter by their respective names.
- Filter Drop-down: This drop-down menu allows you to choose from a variety of filters to match a Movie/TV Show to certain criteria. An example of each filter’s use is listed below to better illustrate each one’s use and purpose:
 - Trending: This section provides a list of media that is currently trending among other users based on open-sourced information. Trending can give suggestions that are hot, so that you do not miss out on what everyone else is watching. Trending is also mainly made up of movies currently playing in theatres, so it is a good tool to use for moviegoers.
 - Top Rated: This section provides the highest-rated media based on user reviews on a 10-star rating system. The Top Rated suggests results that have been the highest rated of all time, making it a good place to find something you will most likely enjoy critically and entertainingly.
 - By Mood: This section allows you to filter through media based on your current mood. When “By Mood” is selected, a third drop-down menu will appear to the right of the filter drop-down. You can select from the following options depending on your current mood: “Happy”, “Sad”, “Scared”, “Romantic”, “Excited”, “Relaxed”, “Thoughtful”, and “Intense”. These moods filter through the media based on what you would be more inclined to watch in your current mood, saving you time when you simply want to watch something for your current situation.

- Search: This section allows you to freely search for media. When selected, a search box appears next to the filter drop-down menu, allowing you to input any text to search through the database. A search query can gather results based on a movie/TV show’s name, description, genre, and other criteria, as long as it is included within.
- Time of Day: This section allows you to get suggestions based on the current time of day. When selected, a drop-down appears to the right, allowing you to select the time of day based on the following options: “Day”, “Night”, “Dawn”, “Dusk”. These times are used to match media that would be better watched during these times of the day to acquire the best atmosphere while viewing.
- Go Button: Once the wanted filter is selected, pressing the “Go” button will populate the page with your closest matched movies/TV shows based on your criteria. The info shown is in the form of each media’s title, rating, poster, and publishing date.

The top right of the page includes a “Watchlist” button, which will allow you to view a list of movies and TV shows that are saved via the watchlist button on each movie/TV show’s result page.

Finally, once you are done matching and have your entertainment decided for the night, you can select the “Sign Out” button in the top right to sign out of the service.
